

Piotr Lewandowski

Labour economist and a President of the Board
the Institute for Structural Research (IBS)

Piotr Lewandowski is a labour economist and a President of the Board at the Institute for Structural Research (IBS), Warsaw, Poland, and a Research Fellow at the IZA, Bonn, and RWI Essen. His research interests include the impact of technological progress on labour markets, structural and occupational change, job quality, and minimum wage, as well as the social and labour market effects of climate and energy policies.